The screenshot shows the CORE search interface. At the top, a browser window displays the URL `https://core.ac.uk/search?q=(education%20AND%20technolog*)%20AND%20(senior*%20elrly%20aging%20aeging)`. Below the browser, the CORE logo is on the left, and 'Services' and 'About' links are on the right. The main search area contains several input fields and buttons. On the left, there are five search filters: 'all of the words' (with 'education technolog*'), 'exact phrase' (empty), 'at least one of the words' (with 'senior* elerly aging aeging'), 'without the words' (empty), and 'find those words' (with 'anywhere in the article'). On the right, there are five more filters: 'Author' (empty), 'Publisher' (empty), 'Repository' (empty), 'DOI' (empty), and 'Year' (with '2015' and '2019'). At the bottom right of the search area are 'Reset' and 'Search' buttons. Below the search area, there is a 'Refine your search' section on the left with 'Publication type' (checked 'with fulltext only'), 'Year' (slider from 2015 to 2019), and 'Languages'. On the right, a message states 'Showing results for (education AND technolog*) AND (senior* OR elerly OR aging) AND year:[2015 TO 2019] (105,413 articles found)'. Below this is a 'Sort by: Relevance' dropdown. At the bottom, a search result is shown for 'Education, demographics, and the economy' by CHRISTIAN JAAG, from the RERO DOC Digital Library, dated 2017. The result snippet mentions 'University of Basel Library, on 11 Jul 2017 at 16:45:56, subject to the Cambridge Core terms of use, available due to aging on'.
