

From “Know Them” To “Use Them”

Teaching Vocabulary at Primary Schools

This seminar focuses on the stages that teachers need to go through with their pupils in the process of learning new vocabulary. We'll look at the start of the process as we present new vocabulary, and at the teaching methods and activities that follow in the practice and recycling stages. We'll consider effective teaching methods for presenting, practising and revising lexis in a way that helps pupils not only understand and remember new vocabulary, but also use it in their productive skills.
