Chalk and Cheese: Preparing a mixed ability class for the Maturita exam

ve středu 29. srpna od 13.30 – 15 hod (účast zdarma)

Místo konání: konferenční sál, MZK, Kounicova 65, Brno

The hardest lessons to teach are those where the students are of mixed levels, mixed learning abilities, or both. The teacher needs to find a balance between boring the faster or higher level students and losing the rest of the class. This seminar offers ideas on how to prepare a mixed ability class for the Maturita exam whilst addressing the needs of a wide range of student abilities, sensory learning styles and levels within the class. We will be looking at ways to engage all students effectively via lesson differentiation, careful coursebook task selection and blending teacher and student-centred lessons in order to involve each and every learner within the mixed ability group.
